Subject: American Lifan no longer in business

Thank you to all of our loyal customers and dealers. It states on our site that we are going to be closed during the fall on Mondays. Unfortunately, due to lack of funding and EPA fines that we have recently received we are no longer going to be in business. As of October 19th, 2011 we have officially closed our doors. We will no longer be conducting business in the United States, but will be drop shipping units directly to customers through popular sites like Alibaba.com.

If you need any further assistance please contact China directly at the following email:
iec021@lifan.com .

Kindest regards,

Cathy Zhang
